Gathering and Using Personal Data

When the website is visited, the user's IP address is collected and used to diagnose and resolve problems with the server.

Visitor's IP address could also be used to gather broad demographic information. In that case, Vici shares personal data with advertisers and partners, but does not share personally identifying information.

The company also provides services by means of periodic newsletters where visitors have the option to request not to receive further email notifications.

On the Career page, users who wish to apply for a job at the company are asked to provide personal information and submit a copy of their resume.

Vici also informs users about special promotions or any other information that can be of interest. Visitors who choose not to receive email updates can disable this option.

Vici cannot guarantee that all private communications with users and other personal information will never be disclosed in ways not otherwise described in Privacy Policy. In cases of investigation of fraud, intellectual property infringements, or other activity that is illegal, Vici is required to provide personal data to government or third parties under certain circumstances.

Linked Sites

Vici cannot be held responsible for the information or the security of other sites linked to its website.

Security

Vici can ensure that personal data shared with us is protected from loss, misuse or illegal alterations. All users' information is stored in an encrypted format.
